

CURRICULUM VITAE
CRAIG B. McLAREN
900 East Union Avenue
Fullerton, CA 92831
Craig.McLaren@SBCGlobal.net
(714) 292 5083 (TEL)
(714) 680 0964 (FAX)

EDUCATION

Ph.D. Candidate, Economics University of California, Riverside, CA

MA, Economics University of California, Riverside, CA

MBA, California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, CA

BA, Physics, California State University, Fullerton, CA

POSITIONS

University of California, Riverside Riverside, CA Lecturer, - Department of Economics	2007-Present
University of California, Riverside Riverside, CA Teaching Assistant, - Department of Economics	2002-Present
Raytheon Systems Company, El Segundo, CA (Formerly Hughes Aircraft Company) Member of the Technical Staff - Computer Science	1979-1998
California State University, Fullerton Lecturer, Department of Physics	1977 - 1979

HONORS

Outstanding Student (Highest GPA) – MBA Program, California State Polytechnic University, Pomona	1999
California State University (system), 1997 Student Research Competition First place award in Business, Economics, and Public Administration.	1997
Membership in Beta Gamma Sigma Business Honor Society	1997-Present
Member ship in Golden Key International Honor Society	1999-Present

RESEARCH PAPERS

- The Problem With Preferences 2008
Presented to a session of the Alliance of Social Science Associations (ASSA) annual meeting in New Orleans LA. Jan. 2008
- Understanding Integrability and “Professor Pareto’s Mysterious Theory” 2008
Presented to the History of Economics Society (HES) annual conference, Toronto, June 2008.
- Utility Comparison and Hierarchical Needs: Bringing Maslow Into the World of Economics 2007
Presented to the Assn. of Heterodox Economists (AHE) annual conference, Bristol, UK. June 2007
- Homo-Economicus: Bentham’s Red Herring 2006
Presented to the History of Economics Society (HES) annual conference, Grinnell Iowa, June 2006.

PUBLICATIONS

- Does Distribution Matter? 1997.
International Trends, Proceedings of the International Business Association
- Cultural perspectives on Economic Development in the “New Russia” 1997.
International Trends, Proceedings of the International Business Association
- The Economics of Enough 1998.
Global Competition, Proceedings of the International Business Association
- The New Nihilists: 'Shock Therapy' and the Sinking of the Russian Economy 1999.
International Trends, Proceedings of the International Business Association,

PATENTS

- Acoustic Navigation and Diving Information System (ANDIS) 1996
A digital, ultrasonic communication system for under-sea exploration

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- University of California, Riverside 2007-Present
- Lecturer
I taught Introductory and Intermediate Macroeconomics

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE (Cont.)

University of California, Riverside

2002-2008

Teaching Assistant

I assisted in various lower and upper division courses

Raytheon Systems Company, El Segundo, CA (Formerly Hughes Aircraft Company)

1979-1998

Member of the Technical Staff — Computer Science (1982-1998)

As member of the Engineering Staff, I was involved in numerous projects. Some highlights are as follows:

- I patented and marketed a digital ultrasonic communication system for under-sea exploration. This effort included an outline of the product development (management) plan.
- I carried the design of a microcomputer based data entry terminal through production. This involved coordinating the efforts of electrical, mechanical, and manufacturing-test engineering.
- I managed design teams of up to four engineers and two technicians. I defined work assignments, performed cost management, and reported progress.

Technical Training Engineer (1979-1982)

Designed and conducted technical training courses for government personnel in the US, UK, and Canada. Duties included design of curriculum, delivery of instruction, and evaluation of student performance to Department of Defense (DoD) standards.

California State University, Fullerton

1977-1978

Lecturer

I taught lower division laboratory courses for the Department of Physics

PROFESSIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE ORGANIZATION MEMBERSHIPS

Casa Hogar Orphanage Development Project, Mexicali, BC Mexico

1989-1995

Project Director

I served as the project director of a volunteer effort that built a child care facility that is presently home to 25 children. My tasks included architectural design of the facility, planning the construction work, and leading the construction team, which consisted mainly of the high school and collage age youth from a church in Fullerton California.

International Institute of Christian Social Services (IICSS)

2004-Present

President

PROFESSIONAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICE ORGANIZATION MEMBERSHIPS (Cont.)

Moscow Christian School of Psychology	1997-2004
Member of the Board of Directors — Public Relations (1997-2004)
The Los Angeles - Saint Petersburg Sister City Committee	1997 - 1999
Member of the Economic Development Subcommittee
Claremont Association for Mutual Understanding Between America and the Former Soviet Union (CAMASU)	1997 - 1999
Member of the Board of Directors	